

Reverberation

Aya Hamamoto
Main Gallery

Reverberation explores a way to represent inarticulate feelings of loss: a mixture of grief and resignation, through multiple associations between image, memory and sound in the constructed space. This project aims to examine how reciprocal dialogs between seeing and hearing may activate meanings beyond the reach of language.

George Paton Gallery Exhibition Archive
11: 14-23 September

2016