

Rebuilding

Jamie O'Connell

Recipient of the 2012 GPG/VCA Proud award

Two automotive engines, one radiator, one fuel tank and no battery. Exhaust is piped from the space. The engines run in a dependent cycle, through linked auxiliaries; fuel, water, air and electricity.

The electricity generated by one engine powers the other and vice versa.