

Practice
Andrew Seward
Annual alumni exhibition

I also make artworks to learn things. To learn how to do something; or from or about something; or what happens if I do something; or what happens if I let something happen. And sometimes, to learn some more about those things if I then do something else. Like have an exhibition, for instance.

Photo documentation: Astrid Mulder