

Flowing Water, Bordered Stones
I-Yen Chen, Yan Yang, and Tian-Shu Zheng
Main Gallery

Soft and intangible water flows over stone, is diverged into different streams, embraces objects, fills space. Each audience member is a floating island—ferrying feelings and thoughts, flowing with the stream, encountering the world created and creating their encountered world.