

Pursuit
Daniel Greenham

Technology mediates our tenuous relationship with the real through a complex system of signs and symbols. Pursuit severs this connection and asks what remains when the mediator outlives the mediated—with vivid and complex phenomena emerging from the stochastic composition of simple mathematical formulae.

Photo documentation: Astrid Mulder