

the sound of your breath fades with the light

Jo Gillespie
21 April-1 May

the sound of your breath fades with the light, a temporary site-specific project, is a subtle investigation into the environment and architecture of the George Paton Gallery. Here layers of semi-transparent paint and spontaneously derived graffiti-like calligraphic marks naturally examine the wall surfaces, directly responding to the rich history of the gallery space.